

WINDOW COVERING SAFETY MONTH

SAMPLE SOCIAL MEDIA POSTS

NATIONAL WINDOW COVERING
SAFETY MONTH

- Did you know: Corded window coverings are one of the top hidden hazards in American homes? <https://bit.ly/2xJpol8>
- Baby on the way or just started crawling? Take a minute and read through this childproofing checklist for dangers you might not consider! <https://bit.ly/2ErmtUW>
- It's Window Covering Safety Month! Parents - check your window coverings for exposed or dangling cords and go #CordlessforKids to help eliminate safety hazards to infants and young children.
- Kids in the home? It only takes a few seconds for an accident to happen. Watch this PSA, "Little Hands" and make the right choice – go cordless for your window coverings. <https://bit.ly/3R19MQP>
- Tiny hands and cords don't mix! Parents, inspect your window coverings to check for exposed or dangling cords - switch to cordless options to prevent accidents. <https://bit.ly/3bZbWg6>
- Attention Parents! Keep your kids safe by checking your window blinds for cords. Replace them with cordless options to eliminate strangulation risks! It's easy – look for the Best For Kids logo on products nationwide. <https://bit.ly/2XXMCT3>
- National Window Coverings Safety Month reminds parents and caregivers to check their window coverings for exposed or dangling cords which can pose a hazard to infants and young children. Like this page to find out more!

Tag WCSC!

Facebook: @windowcoverings

Twitter: @cordsafety

Instagram: @windowcordsafety

Hashtags: #CordlessforKids #BestforKids #WindowCoveringSafetyMonth
#GoCordless